You Lied

Forever is a timespan, defined by the observer's eye
Forever is a promise, parting the truth from the lie
When a question doesn't need to be asked
You've got your answer right away
Two hearts colliding into a black hole of Either luck or dismay

You lied! You lied! A cold hearted murder in the night
You lied! You lied! No one could save me from the light
The final breath, take my hand!
Take my life, I'll make your fucking world go down in flames!

Forever is a timespan, destroying the observer's mind
Forever is a lie lingering in the loyal's life
Life is long when the end is nigh
For hope we long when there's no more light
Relive the past, don't look where you walk
And let the time take its toll and take your life!

Death is just a number, a life is just a casualty
All it took was one shot
One step closer to extinction of humanity
No need to look back, you're not going that way
You walk in the shades of the great
No one will remember you anyway

Chaos Theory

A memory is all I've got, a memory to save you again
I stretch my hand out, trying to reach you
But I fall through all galaxies, I fall through all realities
I explained to you a hundred times you are my priority
Every journey takes its toll, every time I find new grey hair
All the damage is worth one single more day

In search of light I create a tornado
I fill the crack in time and another one appears
The day has come, I've seen my alter self
One must depart and one life must end

A memory is all I've got, a memory to save you again
I stretch my hand out, trying to reach you
But I fall through all galaxies, I fall through all realities
We've completed the puzzle, you are the last piece

Together we can end this hell and live a life in peace
No matter the cost, collateral casualties

Don't waste your time looking back
You're not going that way

Embrace the black

Let your soul succumb to the void

Let your soul succumb to the void

Bitrate Ego

I'll be right back my dear, stare straight to the horizon
The ship will land back here as soon as the tides are rising
Set sails and lift the anchor, the wind is our guide
I've got a string of your hair my thoughts will be with you

I've got the world in my hands, I've seen whole planet earth
I can save humanity with click, but what is it worth
Delivered, seen, up- and downloaded, time's my enemy
The information age will steal my sanity

When will you write me back, I know you received the mail
The network tells me where you been
I can see your trail
No one's anonymous, the screens are looking back at us
I've got all that I need from you
There's no need for trust

Register now! Win our prize!

The queen awaits your results!

You're on the verge of being king, just click the link below

Timecracks

The spoon is drawing circles in the cup of steaming coffee
The smoke is crawling up the walls, it's burning in my eyes
I read the headlines, stories, nothing that is keeping me here
Faceless silhouettes of masked incessant lies

I need a break, give me some rest
I don't know if I can do this anymore
Is anyone there? Is anyone listening? My heart is getting sore
How can I cure my pain and solve all of my problems
I am alone in this, the world is so unfair to me

A new notification she got, my screen remains unlit
I don't need to see who this is, I don't really give a damn about seeing that, what do I know, what do I care
Why do I even bother anymore
I can't believe this shit has taken my life for a toll
The shoulder to lean on will become the hand to hold

She says I swear too much, I ought to keep myself shut
What could have been said, what could have been done by now
She takes her hand away at night, turns around and hides her face
No way I could have foreseen this night, who's gonna break the Silence...

Last night I had that dream again, in this world so strange and unknown
My mind was blocked, my eyes were tired, hell I've been shown
A life in luxury and agony
The world was turning around me, never have I felt anything
So aggrieving about myself
Don't ever let me dream again about this selfish egoistic hell!

Sleepwalking

I keep my eyes shut, mouth closed and my hands tied together
I walk through my daily routine, not knowing what I'm here for Take orders, follow leaders, faces I don't recognize
All work, no play makes me a dull boy, makes us a dull society

Sleepwalking I run through my life
Collecting names for the bigger cause
Brainwashed to know what makes me happy
No matter the cost
Glowing screens, paper sheets became our necessities
Elbows out, a pinch of hatred is the recipe

I. Obey. I. Walk. In. Circles.
Can't. Find. Out. What. Is. My.
Purpose

Go sell your soul, think bigger, here's the contract
If you could just quickly sign

Sleepwalking I run through my life
Not knowing who's the puppeteer
Brainwashed puppets thinking out loud
To make the strings disappear
Growing seeds of endless greed, control our bare necessities
You ain't got the ingredients
So we won't tell you the recipe

A Father's Heart

I see the frost climbing up the window pane
Another year has passed and I'm welcoming the rain
The last leaf has fallen, there is no turning back
I carry her, the last walk we share
She's lying on her back

But have I become the picture of discipline
Am I a better man than my father has been?
Every path I walk, every choice I make

Defines who I am and where I'll end
A father's heart, a son's mind
Rough hands are all I've got to give

All the faces passing by, all the faces passed away
A photograph, a letter, a memory for me to stay
The solitude, my only friend, points his finger on me
Guilt and shame, love and hate
In the end they're all the same

False Prophets

I can't take anymore of your shit, I'm tired of the hate you spread
Your words in god's ear, your hate that fuels fear
Can't you see that no one wins a game that's played by the dead
You rule over a kingdom that glorifies the wrath
Of a false prophet, interpretation of an ancient book
And one more word would probably get my head off my neck

For thousands of years you brought us pain
So now we fight back, everyone, everyday
Face the millions you've killed
Face the nations you've burned
Face the wrath of your victims
Now the tables have turned

I take a leap of faith, away from faith in humanity
Murdering in the name of god to justify insanity
How can you sleep at night listening to all the screams
Of all the dead children and all the dead mothers who've died for you
For a false prophet, interpretation of an ancient book
Oh how I wish to cut your fucking head off your neck

Thousands of years only pain
We're fighting back, an unbreakable force
Face the millions you've killed
All the victims of war
Now the tables have turned

Into The Storm

Follow me into the Storm, into the black hole
The sirens called your name and now it's time to go
The lighthouse's fire died, the shields have been deactivated
The force is pulling us into the nothingness

So this will be our moment
Our time to be immortal
Born and raised for all glory
Exploring the new world

So this will be our moment
Our time to be immortal
Born and raised for all glory
Exploring the new world

Sector after sector, we are following the path
Will we gain a new home or will we face a new wrath
Plundering, outsourcing, settling, building new civilizations
Facing the unknown in grasp of our new accommodation
